

Figure A.1. Typical Cryo-TEM picture for DOPC/DOPG proteoliposomes containing LH2 complexes. The reconstitution process yields regular vesicles with an average diameter of about 50 nm. The lipid bilayer at the boundary of the vesicles can be seen as the dark circle in the focal plane of the electron microscope.